How do you know you're a mom?

You know you're a mom when...

You stop criticizing the way your mother raised you.

You automatically double knot everything you tie.

You spend an entire week wearing sweats.

You have time to shave only one leg at a time.

Your feet stick to the kitchen floor, and you don't care.

You serve peanut butter and jelly sandwiches at least once a day.

Popsicles become a food staple.

You buy cereal with marshmallows in it.

The closest you get to gourmet cooking is making Rice Krispies bars.

You hope ketchup is a vegetable, since it's the only one your child eats

Alarm clock: A device for awakening people who don't have small children.

What Ever Happened to...? Day –

Have you ever wondered what happened to a politician, a sports hero, or an actor who was in the limelight years ago? Let's satisfy our curiosity and look up people from yesteryear! The website WEHT (What Ever Happened To...) might be helpful to us! Who would you want to find out about???

Where in Laurel Place will you find this lovely bird and the "Johnny Jump-Ups"?

It is Travel Month! Travel with us via Google Earth around the world!

There are three ways to get something done: do it yourself, hire someone to do it, or forbid your children to do it.

Memorial Day is a federal holiday in the United States for honoring and mourning the military personnel who have died in the performance of their military duties while serving in the United States Armed Forces. The holiday is observed on the last Monday of May.

Americans also observe Memorial Day by visiting cemeteries and memorials. Some people wear a red poppy in remembrance of those fallen in war—a tradition that began with a World War I poem.

On a less somber note, many people take weekend trips or throw parties and barbecues on the holiday, perhaps because Memorial Day weekend—the long weekend comprising the Saturday and Sunday before Memorial Day and Memorial Day itself—unofficially marks the beginning of summer.
